Executive summary

What your answers show

Leaking

Test Profile, your customer journey scores 49 out of 100. There are significant gaps in your journey. You're winning attention and then losing people who were ready to book - which means growth is costing far more than it should.

Your strongest stage is Lead Response at 71/100. The stage costing you most right now is Lead Nurture & Follow-Up at 39/100 - which is where this report starts.

At £250-£500 per client, one extra client a month adds around £4,200 in lifetime value over a year - the bar every recommendation in this report has to clear.

What the gaps are costing you	£19,390 a year
Enquiries that never became clients	£13,400
Appointments that don't turn up	£3,500
Clients who don't come back	£1,500
Confirmation & Pre-Appointment: what the gap costs	£990

Based on 65 appointments a week at £40 over 50 working weeks, an estimated £130,000 a year. The total above is held to 15% of that.

Your top three priorities

Priority 1

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

39/100 · Critical gap

Follow-up depends on how busy you are, which means the busiest weeks - your best lead weeks - get the least follow-up.

Priority 2

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

24/100 · Critical gap

Reminders depend on you having time, so the busiest weeks - when a no-show hurts most - get the fewest reminders.

Priority 3

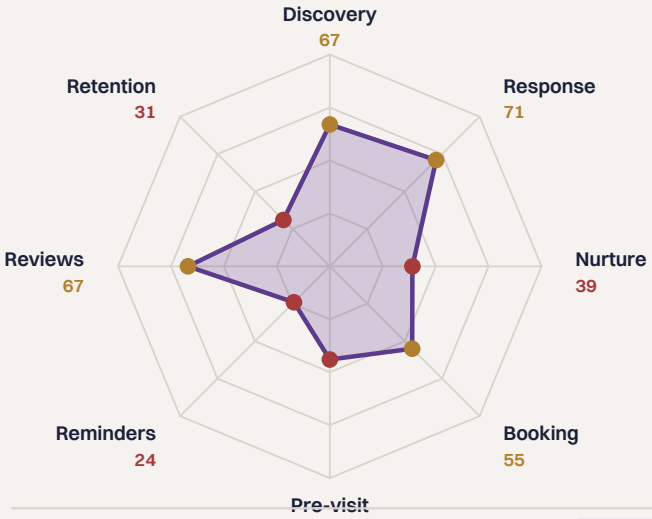

Retention & Re-engagement

31/100 · Critical gap

Only 13% of your clients are repeat, so most of your income depends on constantly finding new people.

All eight stages

Your journey at a glance

How each stage is being run

AUTOMATED happens without anyone thinking about it

SYSTEMISED there is a process, but it still needs you

MANUAL depends on somebody remembering

Manual is under 50, Systemised is 50 to 74, Automated is 75 and over.

Lead Sources & Discovery

SYSTEMISED — 67/100

Your Google profile exists but isn't working hard - it's listed rather than competing.

Lead Response

SYSTEMISED — 71/100

An hour is good, but the first five minutes is where the booking is won - after that, enquiries start shopping around.

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

MANUAL — 39/100

Follow-up depends on how busy you are, which means the busiest weeks - your best lead weeks - get the least follow-up.

Booking Process

SYSTEMISED — 55/100

A mix of routes means some clients get a smooth booking and others get a conversation - and the ones who need it easiest usually get the slowest route.

Confirmation & Pre-Appointment

MANUAL — 44/100

Confirmations depend on you remembering, so some clients get one late and some don't get one at all.

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

MANUAL — 24/100

Reminders depend on you having time, so the busiest weeks - when a no-show hurts most - get the fewest reminders.

Reviews & Reputation

SYSTEMISED — 67/100

You're level with competitors, so reviews aren't yet a reason to choose you.

Retention & Re-engagement

MANUAL — 31/100

Only 13% of your clients are repeat, so most of your income depends on constantly finding new people.

One number for the next three months

Your 90-day focus

YOUR FOCUS KPI

Enquiry-to-client conversion

The share of enquiries that become paying clients

TODAY	IN 90 DAYS
20%	35%

Why this number matters most for you

This is the fortnight after that first reply, for everyone who did not book there and then. Most of them were not saying no, they were saying not yet, and then nobody asked again. You have already paid for their attention, so lifting this number costs nothing extra and shows up in the diary within weeks.

The people in this group have already told you they are interested. Following up properly turns a chunk of them into clients without another pound spent on being found, and it stops your diary swinging between good months and quiet ones.

How this number was chosen

Each of the eight stages owns one number. Lead Nurture & Follow-Up scored 39 out of 100, and because it carries more weight in your overall score than most, that gap is costing you more than any other single stage. So the number for this quarter is Enquiry-to-client conversion. The other priorities below were not picked for being weak on their own. They were picked because the work they need also moves Enquiry-to-client conversion, so Booking Process and Lead Response pull in the same direction rather than scattering your effort across eight fronts.

How to measure it

Track the following data: out of every hundred people who enquire, how many end up paying you for something.

Where to get it

Use the same enquiry list you started in stage one. Count how many enquiries you received last month. Then go through those same people and count how many have since had an appointment. Divide the second number by the first and multiply by a hundred. Use last month rather than this month, because people who enquired this week have not had time to decide yet.

How often to check

Once a month, always looking at the month before last month. Doing it any sooner makes your conversion rate look worse than it is.

Priority 1

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

MANUAL 39/100

What's working

- Nothing scored strongly here yet.

The gaps

- Follow-up depends on how busy you are, which means the busiest weeks - your best lead weeks - get the least follow-up.
- One or two touches stops just before the point where most undecided enquiries actually book.
- Your nurture is partly built, so some enquiries get looked after and others don't.

What to do

PROJECT Systemise the first three touches so they happen regardless of your week, and step in personally only when someone replies.

Makes your conversion rate consistent instead of seasonal.

QUICK WIN Extend your sequence to five touches across two weeks, varying the angle each time - helpful, reassuring, then time-bound.

Captures the slower decision-makers without any extra enquiry cost.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

Follow-up that runs itself and knows when to stop. Each enquiry who has not booked gets a sequence shaped around what they asked about, by email, text or the channel they came in on. It stops the moment they book, and the replies that need a person come to you with the thread already read.

Tools

Start here

- Three saved messages: the day after, day three, and day seven. Send them by hand until the pattern is proven.
- A note in the diary each Friday to check who enquired this week and never heard back.

The joined-up version

An enquiry that does not book joins a sequence by itself, the sequence stops the moment they do book, and you only step in when somebody replies.

Priority 2

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

MANUAL 24/100

What's working

- Nothing scored strongly here yet.

The gaps

- Reminders depend on you having time, so the busiest weeks - when a no-show hurts most - get the fewest reminders.
- A single reminder leaves a long silent gap between booking and appointment.
- A 23% no-show rate means roughly one in 4 booked appointments earns nothing.

What to do

QUICK WIN Switch reminders on in your booking system at 48 and 24 hours so they run without you.

Consistent attendance and one less job on a full day.

QUICK WIN Send two reminders: 48 hours before (long enough to rebook rather than cancel) and 24 hours before.

The 48-hour reminder converts would-be no-shows into reschedules, which keeps the revenue.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

Two-way reminders that ask rather than tell. A client confirms or cancels from the message, and a cancellation goes straight to a waitlist that fills the slot from the people most likely to say yes. Repeated no-shows are flagged quietly, so you can decide what to do about them rather than finding out later.

Tools

Start here

- Reminders switched on at 48 and 24 hours in the system you already pay for.
- A cancellation policy written in one short paragraph and shown at the point of booking.

The joined-up version

The reminder asks for a yes or no rather than just telling them, and a no goes straight to the people waiting for a slot.

Priority 3

Retention & Re-engagement

MANUAL 31/100

What's working

- You follow up after appointments, which keeps the relationship warm.

The gaps

- Only 13% of your clients are repeat, so most of your income depends on constantly finding new people.
- Clients who drift away are never contacted, so a growing list of people who liked your work is going unused.
- There's no referral programme, so the trust you've built with existing clients isn't bringing new ones in.

What to do

QUICK WIN Ask for the next booking before they leave, as well as sending the follow-up.

In-room rebooking typically converts several times better than any message sent later.

PROJECT Prompt every client to rebook before they leave, and set up a re-engagement message for anyone who hasn't been back in 10 weeks.

Lifting repeat business from 13% to 33% would meaningfully raise your income without a single new enquiry.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

Rebooking prompts timed to each treatment's own cycle rather than one blanket reminder, so clients hear from you when they are actually due. Anyone drifting past their window is picked up automatically, and the ones who do come back are asked to bring someone with them.

Tools

Start here

- Ask for the next booking before the client leaves. It costs nothing and it moves fastest.
- A list of everyone who has not been back in three months, worked through by hand once.

The joined-up version

The system knows when each client is due back, asks them before you would have remembered to, and only tells you about the ones who do not answer.

The plan

Week by week

Everything from the roadmap, in the order to do it. All of it moves Enquiry-to-client conversion.

1 Phase one

Weeks 1-2

QUICK WIN — Nurture

Extend your sequence to five touches across two weeks, varying the angle each time - helpful, reassuring, then time-bound.

QUICK WIN — Nurture

Choose one standing first-visit offer - a credit against the first invoice, an add-on, or a small saving on the first booking - and use it in every follow-up.

QUICK WIN — Reminders

Switch reminders on in your booking system at 48 and 24 hours so they run without you.

2 Phase two

Weeks 3-6

PROJECT — Nurture

Systemise the first three touches so they happen regardless of your week, and step in personally only when someone replies.

PROJECT — Nurture

Finish the sequence: five emails over two weeks covering what to expect, the result they're after, reviews, common worries and an invitation to book.

PROJECT — Nurture

Launch a single page with your services, prices, photos and an enquiry form. It doesn't need to be big - it needs to exist.

3 Phase three

Weeks 7-12

PROJECT — Retention

Prompt every client to rebook before they leave, and set up a re-engagement message for anyone who hasn't been back in 10 weeks.

PROJECT — Nurture

Fix response speed and follow-up first - they move conversion faster than anything else - then

THREE THINGS YOU CAN DO THIS WEEK

Next steps

Three ways to close these gaps

Everything in this report is one 90-day cycle: Enquiry-to-client conversion as the focus, with the priorities that move it. That is exactly how the LEAP sprint runs. You can run it yourself - the real question is how much of it you want to carry alone.

Option 1

Run it yourself

Included

The whole cycle is written out for you to work through in order. Be warned that it is a fair amount of work: three months of building, testing and following up around an already full diary, and the parts you're least sure about are usually the ones that slip.

Option 2

Your top priority, built for you

From £950

We take the gap that's costing you most and build the fix properly, so it runs without you remembering to do it. Any quick wins that sit alongside it are included in the build.

Option 3

LEAP - 90-Day Sprint

From £2,500 a month

The same cycle, built with you across ninety days: your focus KPI, the aligned priorities, fortnightly sessions, and the work shared rather than left to your evenings. Your number gets looked at every two weeks, which is usually what separates a plan that happens from one that doesn't.

About

Tulivo Digital

Jemina Semakula helps service business owners fix the journey between "I'm interested" and "I've booked again". Most of them don't have a marketing problem - they have a journey problem: enquiries that go unanswered, follow-ups that never happen, and clients who simply drift away.

The work is practical: response systems, booking that doesn't lose people, reminders that protect your diary, review engines and retention sequences - built into the business, not handed over as a document.

What we do

- Customer journey diagnostics and implementation
- AI assistants and automated client communications
- Automation and CRM builds for clinics, studios and salons
- Websites and booking journeys designed to convert
- Reputation, retention and referral systems
