Executive summary

What your answers show

Critical

Test Profile, your customer journey scores 10 out of 100. There are major gaps across your journey. The good news is that businesses starting here usually see the fastest gains, because the fixes are foundational rather than clever.

Your strongest stage is Booking Process at 19/100. The stage costing you most right now is Reminders & No-Show Prevention at 11/100 - which is where this report starts.

At under £250 per client, one extra client a month adds around £1,800 in lifetime value over a year - the bar every recommendation in this report has to clear.

What the gaps are costing you	£13,500 a year
Appointments that don't turn up	£3,900
Enquiries that wait too long for a reply	£1,700
People who were never found	£1,400
Follow-ups that never happened	£1,400
4 smaller gaps across the other stages	£5,100

Based on 24 appointments a week at £75 over 50 working weeks, an estimated £90,000 a year. The total above is held to 15% of that.

Your top three priorities

Priority 1

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

11/100 · Critical gap

Clients receive no reminder, so every appointment relies on them remembering something they booked weeks ago.

Priority 2

Lead Response

10/100 · Critical gap

Enquiries wait a day or more, and most people booking a service will have chosen someone else by then.

Priority 3

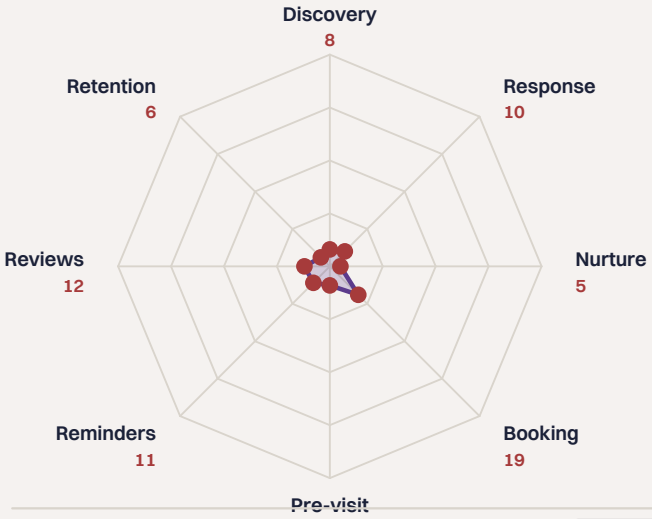

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

5/100 · Critical gap

Enquiries and quotes that don't convert immediately are never chased, so interest you already paid for expires silently.

All eight stages

Your journey at a glance

How each stage is being run

AUTOMATED happens without anyone thinking about it

SYSTEMISED there is a process, but it still needs you

MANUAL depends on somebody remembering

Manual is under 50, Systemised is 50 to 74, Automated is 75 and over.

Lead Sources & Discovery

MANUAL 8/100

Almost all your enquiries arrive through one or two routes, which makes your diary vulnerable to an algorithm change or a quiet month.

Lead Response

MANUAL 10/100

Enquiries wait a day or more, and most people booking a service will have chosen someone else by then.

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

MANUAL 5/100

Enquiries and quotes that don't convert immediately are never chased, so interest you already paid for expires silently.

Booking Process

MANUAL 19/100

Phone-only booking excludes anyone who won't ring, which is most people under 40 making a first enquiry.

Confirmation & Pre-Appointment

MANUAL 9/100

Clients get no confirmation, so their first experience of you is uncertainty about whether they're actually booked.

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

MANUAL 11/100

Clients receive no reminder, so every appointment relies on them remembering something they booked weeks ago.

Reviews & Reputation

MANUAL 12/100

You aren't asking, so your review count reflects only the few clients motivated enough to do it unprompted.

Retention & Re-engagement

MANUAL 6/100

Once a client leaves, there's nothing bringing them back - so every month you start again on new enquiries.

YOUR FOCUS KPI

No-show rate

The share of booked appointments that don't turn up or cancel too late to refill

TODAY	IN 90 DAYS
30%	Under 15%

Why this number matters most for you

It's the most expensive number in the business: the client was won, the time was blocked, and there's nothing to sell in its place.

Every no-show you prevent is money you had already earned, in time you had already set aside. Nothing else in this report pays back as quickly, and a fuller diary makes every other number easier to move.

How this number was chosen

Each of the eight stages owns one number. Reminders & No-Show Prevention scored 11 out of 100, and because it carries more weight in your overall score than most, that gap is costing you more than any other single stage. So the number for this quarter is No-show rate. The other priorities below were not picked for being weak on their own. They were picked because the work they need also moves No-show rate, so Confirmation & Pre-Appointment and Booking Process pull in the same direction rather than scattering your effort across eight fronts.

How to measure it

Track the following data: what share of booked appointments were missed completely, or cancelled so late that you could not sell the time to anybody else.

Where to get it

Mark it in the diary the moment it happens. Most booking systems have a no-show button, and once you use it every time, the system will work the rate out for you. Treat a late cancellation as a no-show whenever you could not fill the slot. At the end of the month, divide the missed appointments by the total appointments booked and multiply by a hundred.

How often to check

Mark each one on the day it happens, while you remember. Work out the percentage once a month.

Priority 1

Reminders & No-Show Prevention

MANUAL 11/100

What's working

- Nothing scored strongly here yet.

The gaps

- Clients receive no reminder, so every appointment relies on them remembering something they booked weeks ago.
- A single reminder leaves a long silent gap between booking and appointment.
- A 30%+ no-show rate means roughly one in 3 booked appointments earns nothing.

What to do

QUICK WIN Turn on automated SMS reminders at 48 and 24 hours before every appointment.

This one change commonly halves no-shows within a month.

QUICK WIN Send two reminders: 48 hours before (long enough to rebook rather than cancel) and 24 hours before.

The 48-hour reminder converts would-be no-shows into reschedules, which keeps the revenue.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

Two-way reminders that ask rather than tell. A client confirms or cancels from the message, and a cancellation goes straight to a waitlist that fills the slot from the people most likely to say yes. Repeated no-shows are flagged quietly, so you can decide what to do about them rather than finding out later.

Tools

Start here

- Reminders switched on at 48 and 24 hours in the system you already pay for.
- A cancellation policy written in one short paragraph and shown at the point of booking.

The joined-up version

The reminder asks for a yes or no rather than just telling them, and a no goes straight to the people waiting for a slot.

MANUAL 10/100

What's working

- Nothing scored strongly here yet.

The gaps

- Enquiries wait a day or more, and most people booking a service will have chosen someone else by then.
- Nothing happens automatically when someone enquires, so every enquiry waits for you to be free.
- Enquiries that land while you're with a client sit untouched - and that's most of your working day.

What to do

QUICK WIN Put something on every channel this week that answers the first question on its own - a chatbot if you can, an auto-reply with your prices and a booking link if not - so nobody is waiting on you to be free.

This alone can recover a meaningful share of enquiries you're currently losing without ever seeing them.

QUICK WIN Switch on instant replies on Instagram and Facebook, and an automatic confirmation email on your website form. Include your prices and a booking link.

Every enquiry gets acknowledged in seconds, which stops people messaging three other businesses while they wait.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

An AI assistant that answers on every channel you use, at any hour, in your words. It handles price and availability, asks the one or two things you need to know, and books straight into your diary. Anything it cannot answer arrives with you already summarised, so you reply once rather than from the beginning.

Tools

Start here

- Instant replies turned on in Instagram and Facebook settings, with your prices and a booking link in them.
- An automatic reply on your website form, so nobody is left wondering whether it sent.

The joined-up version

Every channel feeds one inbox, the first reply goes out on its own with a booking link in it, and anything that needs you is waiting in one place rather than on four apps.

Priority 3

Lead Nurture & Follow-Up

MANUAL 5/100

What's working

- Nothing scored strongly here yet.

The gaps

- Enquiries and quotes that don't convert immediately are never chased, so interest you already paid for expires silently.
- There's no follow-up at all after the first reply.
- There's nothing keeping you in mind between the enquiry and the decision, so you're competing against whoever messaged them last.

What to do

PROJECT Build a three-message follow-up: next day (helpful answer), day three (reassurance plus a review), day seven (a reason to book now).

Following up three times typically converts an extra 10-25% of enquiries that would otherwise have gone quiet.

PROJECT Add at least three follow-up touches over the first week after an enquiry.

Most bookings from 'thinking about it' enquiries come on touch two or three.

THE NEXT LEVEL · BUILT WITH YOU

Follow-up that runs itself and knows when to stop. Each enquiry who has not booked gets a sequence shaped around what they asked about, by email, text or the channel they came in on. It stops the moment they book, and the replies that need a person come to you with the thread already read.

Tools

Start here

- Three saved messages: the day after, day three, and day seven. Send them by hand until the pattern is proven.
- A note in the diary each Friday to check who enquired this week and never heard back.

The joined-up version

An enquiry that does not book joins a sequence by itself, the sequence stops the moment they do book, and you only step in when somebody replies.

The plan

Week by week

Everything from the roadmap, in the order to do it. All of it moves No-show rate.

1 Phase one

Weeks 1-2

QUICK WIN — Reminders

Turn on automated SMS reminders at 48 and 24 hours before every appointment.

QUICK WIN — Reminders

Send two reminders: 48 hours before (long enough to rebook rather than cancel) and 24 hours before.

2 Phase two

Weeks 3-6

QUICK WIN — Response

Put something on every channel this week that answers the first question on its own - a chatbot if you can, an auto-reply with your prices and a booking link if not - so nobody is waiting on you to be free.

QUICK WIN — Response

Switch on instant replies on Instagram and Facebook, and an automatic confirmation email on your website form. Include your prices and a booking link.

3 Phase three

Weeks 7-12

PROJECT — Nurture

Build a three-message follow-up: next day (helpful answer), day three (reassurance plus a review), day seven (a reason to book now).

PROJECT — Nurture

Add at least three follow-up touches over the first week after an enquiry.

THREE THINGS YOU CAN DO THIS WEEK

- Turn on automated SMS reminders at 48 and 24 hours before every appointment.
- Send two reminders: 48 hours before (long enough to rebook rather than cancel) and 24 hours before.
- Combine three things: a deposit at booking, two automated reminders, and a policy you actually enforce.

Next steps

Three ways to close these gaps

Everything in this report is one 90-day cycle: No-show rate as the focus, with the priorities that move it. That is exactly how the LEAP sprint runs. You can run it yourself - the real question is how much of it you want to carry alone.

Option 1

Run it yourself — Included

The whole cycle is written out for you to work through in order. Be warned that it is a fair amount of work: three months of building, testing and following up around an already full diary, and the parts you're least sure about are usually the ones that slip.

Option 2

Your top priority, built for you — From £950

We take the gap that's costing you most and build the fix properly, so it runs without you remembering to do it. Any quick wins that sit alongside it are included in the build.

Option 3

LEAP - 90-Day Sprint — From £2,500 a month

The same cycle, built with you across ninety days: your focus KPI, the aligned priorities, fortnightly sessions, and the work shared rather than left to your evenings. Your number gets looked at every two weeks, which is usually what separates a plan that happens from one that doesn't.

About

Tulivo Digital

Jemina Semakula helps service business owners fix the journey between "I'm interested" and "I've booked again". Most of them don't have a marketing problem - they have a journey problem: enquiries that go unanswered, follow-ups that never happen, and clients who simply drift away.

The work is practical: response systems, booking that doesn't lose people, reminders that protect your diary, review engines and retention sequences - built into the business, not handed over as a document.

What we do

- Customer journey diagnostics and implementation
- AI assistants and automated client communications
- Automation and CRM builds for clinics, studios and salons
- Websites and booking journeys designed to convert
- Reputation, retention and referral systems
